Dear Bertrand,

Health Insight Newsletter - July 2013

WHY PRIME FORMULA?

Basic health is actually simple - based on 4 functions common to all living systems:

- Absorption: digestion and assimilation that involve the digestive tract.
- Transformation: food we absorb goes through multiple transformations to be fully assimilated and utilized by the body.
- Elimination: whatever cannot be utilized or is detrimental to the body has to be neutralized and excreted.
- Protection: we are surrounded by toxins and pathogens the body must be ready to handle.

In a healthy body the ability of the body to maintain health is called homeostasis. It is based on lifestyle balance along with the quality and quantity of basic nutrients that we absorb or produce in our body.

Chronic deficiencies, reckless lifestyle, disease, trauma and aging challenge homeostasis, pushing the body towards compensatory behaviors called hallostasis. We continue to function, but not without a long-term cost.

How does Prime Formula restore balance to the body?

We start with a comprehensive vitamin and mineral formula to compensate for nutritional depletion of our food. We add essential fatty acids (omega 3) and probiotics as well as 13 foundational herbs designed to support major physical functions and to optimize regeneration and down-regulate degeneration.

The result is a synergistic approach where the herbs not only enhance the assimilation and utilization of the nutrients in the formula but also in the food we eat.

How is the Prime Formula also helping in balancing the mind and the emotions?

Research at the institute of Heart Math indicates that when the heart, mind and emotions are in energetic alignment and cooperation it creates a state of coherence which simultaneously enhances all our physical and psychological functions.

In selecting the products and amounts used in the formula, one primary focus was to maintain that state of body and mind coherence. We did this through biofeedback and found that in addition to its nutritional support function, the Prime Formula was also very effective at decreasing stress and promoting well-being.

Changes!

In response to concerns about swallowing we have found a product of equal quality which are easier to swallow and have a more appealing scent. This and dramatic increases in manufacturing require a small price increase. As of August 1, 2013, the price for a 30 day supply of Prime Formula will go from $60 to $65.

As in the past, you save the price of one bag when you order 6 bags of the Prime Formula! Total cost is $300. (after August 1 the price will be $325.) Also, we are offering a $40 discount on a one-hour appointment for any of our services, and a $50 discount on the weight management program for new clients. (see coupon below)

We look forward to serving you!
